

Outreach Ambassador Duties

As a point-of-contact for Lodges and Chapters, you can share information about MasonicAid's assistance or would enjoy the Jennings McCall Retirement Community. This will strengthen and preserve the fraternal obligation to provide Masonic relief.

Your Role as an Outreach Ambassador

Spread the Word: Pro-actively coordinate training sessions help your Brothers and Sisters understand the support available through MasonicAid. Services are offered to eligible Masons and their wives, Masonic Widows, female members of the Order of the Eastern Star, and their children.

Maintain Confidentiality to honor members' privacy, nurturing relationships with respect and courtesy. Approach others with empathy to cultivate open, meaningful communication.

Stay Connected: Visit MasonicAid.com or JenningsMcCall.com regularly for resources and updates.

Attend the annual on-site Outreach Ambassador meeting, held each May in Forest Grove. Participation in scheduled Zoom calls is also encouraged to stay informed throughout the year.

Report Back on any training provided by submitting a Volunteer Report. Also, encourage current record-keeping at for Lodges and Chapters within the Grand View (or relevant) database.

Get Involved: Encourage your Lodge or Chapter to get involved by:

- Sharing information about available services.
- Inviting them to donate care packages for clients or residents.
- Making financial contributions to support those in need.

Share Your Story: Send us updates and event recaps so we can highlight your Lodge or Chapter's impact on our social media and newsletters.

Promote Giving: Teach Lodges and Chapters how to donate to support MasonicAid and the Jennings McCall through the Home Endowment Fund – 100% of annual fund earnings directly supports our clients.

Watch For Signs: Work closely with secretaries to notice when members stop paying dues. This may signal a move to a care facility or need for support. Also, stay aware of members who pass away—widows may be eligible for MasonicAid assistance and might not know where to turn.

Reach out and Refer: Connect with fellow members. if you believe someone could use assistance, refer them to The Jennings McCall Center or connect them to MasonicAid at (888) 811-3199.
